Describe Pokemon

TRAINERS - Observe image, person in their lives

NOTES:

1. Pokemon

Note the stage. Pokemon typically have 3 evolutions (not including mega evolutions or regional types). When reading the cards for divination, the evolution indicates the stage of life or maturity the person is experiencing.

2. Element/Type

Pokemon's types are different from the trading card game, but if you have a general knowledge of pokemon you can use their regular types. The types set the mood of the card. Types can also be assigned astrological meanings if you wish to adapt this ruleset.

3. Move Set (optional? - can be insightful)

Use your discretion to create a story with the moveset or any element of the card. You can use numerology (another divination system) with the pokemon's hit points or pokedex number.

4. Pokemon's Description

Stories that relate to the pokemon. How can this further add to your story? How does this relate to the person you're reading to?

5. Pokemon Image - Holographic Yes/No?

A picture is worth a thousand words. What is the pokemon doing or what in the background can be used to read the card? In this case Charizard is with a trainer. Maybe the person you're reading for is dependent on someone. If this card is holographic (shiny) this system dictates that it is a major event.

Charizard

When reading for a person...

This elder person is under the control of a confident leader. Taking pride in their achievements, their fiery temper may serve others but can burn people close to them. In heated situations they have the sense to be controlled with their anger and passion. But when provoked this person may use their power without control.

You can read for people, events, feelings, etc.

You can read a pokemon card like a tarot card or an oracle card. When you read a pokemon card with this system of divination, you use this rubric and your intuition (defined as: using or based on what one feels to be true even without conscious reasoning; instinctive.) to create a story. When you get comfortable with the meanings of each card, ditch this zine and confidently read fortunes for everyone you know!

Divination isn't the future - it's multiple aspects of self and possibilities. Nothing is set in stone. Let people you read for know that the readings you're giving them are for entertainment purposes only.

Spreads

It is not recommended to use this divination system for yes no questions. If you need a yes or no, use a pokemon token or a coin to determine the outcome. Heads for yes, tails for no. If you need elaboration on the answer, pull a card.

One Card

Pull one card from your deck. This card represents the other person. Describe to them what certain elements of the card relate to them.

Three Card

Past | Present | Future

Describe the past, present, and future with Pokemon. Describe the feeling or a scene based on the image's background or the description of the pokemon.

Any Tarot Spread

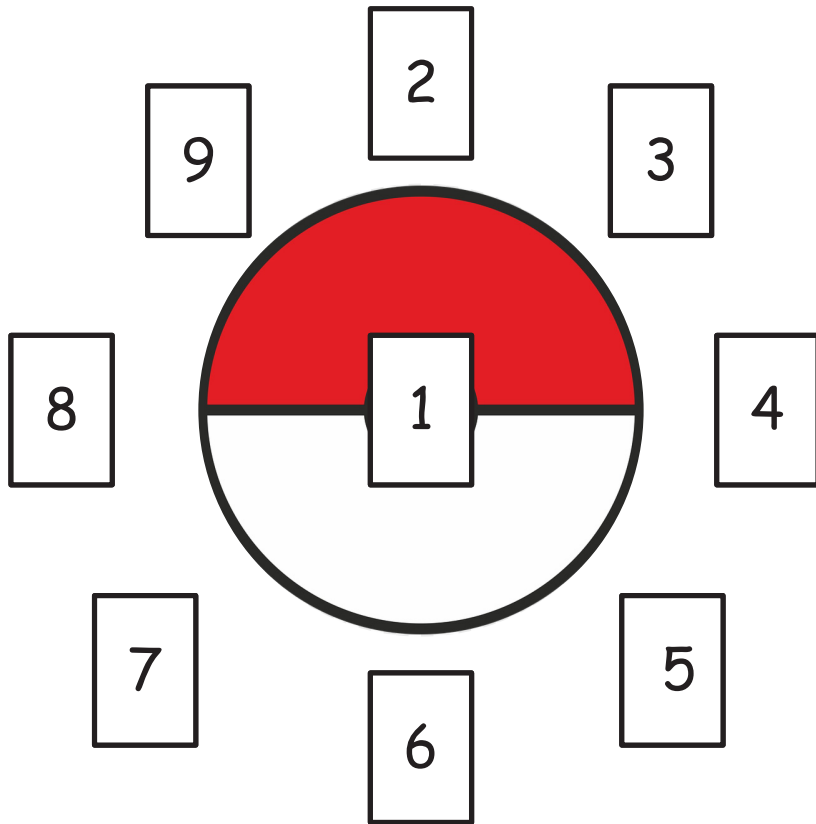

Like the three card spread, when describing scenes or futures use elements from the card. Create stories based on the prompts Tarot spreads provide.

With other divination cards

You can supplement your tarot/oracle cards with pokemon cards.

Pokeball Spread

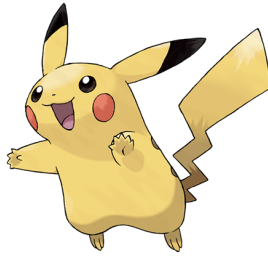

NOTES:

1. The card that describes the person you're reading for. You can also read this spread for yourself.
2. Beginning of their Pokemon Journey. Their first pokemon and what it says about the person.
3. Their first battle. The first challenge of their journey.
4. The first gym battle. The major event in their professional life that shaped their battle style.
5. First companion. This person supports them on their journey. Maybe you stole their bicycle.

6. The drive. Do they need to catch em all?
7. Level up. This will help your person level up.
8. Elite Four. The final battle or obstacle that stands in their way to achieve what they want. Optional to draw four cards here for each challenge.
9. Champion. The result of the journey.

Summerize the spread as their Pokemon jouney.
